Notes Regarding this Transcription

While every effort has been made to complete a full transcription of the document, some words remain illegible either because of the fading of the ink or physical damage to the document in the form a water stains, dirt stains, tears or missing material. In all cases where the script is partially or completely illegible and there remains any question as to the identification of the word or phrase used then the corresponding text of the transcription will be provided in [brackets]. For those words for which there remains a great deal of uncertainty and the text provided in the transcription is a reasonable guess then a question mark will be included within the [brackets?]. If the word is completely unreadable it will be identified as manuscript illegible [MS. illegible]. If the original document is missing material the lost text will be accounted for as [MS. damaged] or otherwise described. All editorial comments will appear in italics within brackets.

This is a literal transcription. By this it is meant that no changes have been made to spelling, capitalization, punctuation, phrasing or sentence structure. The use of various fonts and font sizes have been employed to reflect the character and script usage of the original document, which reflect the grammatical writing structure of the period. The individual line format of this transcription demonstrates the dilemma of transferring the content of an oversized, single sheet, original document into a modern format. As such, each line between returns corresponds to a single line of script on the original sheet and have been sequentially numbered for easier reference.

Notes Regarding this Document

As a means to aid the reader's understanding of the content of this document the following information is provided:

- The Feast of Saint Michael the Arch Angel is September 29th
- "Common Soccage" or socage – The holding or having tenure of land in exchange for clearly defined requirements and fixed payments to be made at specified intervals. Sometimes in the form of agricultural goods, but especially in the form of rent.
- "Capite" – As part of holding tenure of land, being in service to the King as he requires.
- "Knights Service" - Also, as part of holding tenure of land, being required to provide military service to the King.
- The requirements of Capite and Knights Service as a condition of holding land, or tenure, were removed in England in the Tenures Abolition Act of 1660. English Acts of Parliament were not always deemed applicable within the Colonies until later dates, which may account for this specification in 1747.
- A "pole" is 16.5 feet, 320 poles comprise one mile.
- This grant was written on a pre-printed, oversized sheet containing formatted items represented by the underlined text. Hand written text is not underlined.
- The text between the ^ insertion symbols ^ indicates words or phrases inserted above the text of the primary line of writing as inclusions within the original text.
