COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA,

Office of Auditor of Public Accounts.

Richmond. April 1, 1875.

It is the duty of the Assessors and Commissioners of the Revenue to fill the blank spaces in the headings of each and every page of the Land Books, showing the name of the County, the name of the Township, City, or Town, and the name of the Assessor or Commissioner of the Revenue; to add up each column on every page, showing the number of acres, the value of land per acre, the sum included in the value of each tract on account of buildings, and the total amount of tax; and at the end of each book there must be made a general recapitulation, showing the total number of acres, the total value of the land per acre, the total sum included in the value of the land on account of buildings, the total value of the land and buildings, and the amount of tax in each township.

By observing the foregoing rules, and making the figures plain, and placing them regularly under each other, the columns can be added more regularly and accurately; the examinations required in this office would be performed sooner, the statistics needed by the General Assembly obtained with more facility, and the amount of tax due from each County, City, and Town more quickly ascertained, the revenue be more promptly paid into the treasury, and the Assessors and Commissioners would consequently receive pay for their services at an earlier day than usual.

The performance of the foregoing duties will be a small matter for the Assessors and Commissioners, and will save much trouble in the examinations required at this office, and unless they are strictly performed the books will not be received, but will be returned to the Assessors and Commissioners, and their compensation suspended, as provided in the Assessment Act.

WILLIAM F. TAYLOR,

Auditor of Public Accounts.
